New England Mutual Life Ins.,
Of Boston, Mass., Chartered in 1843.

Capital and accumulation, $650,000.

THIS Company is one of the oldest, and among the most prudently and successfully conducted in the country. The primary object in conducting this business has been to provide perfect security under all conceivable circumstances, for the payment of its losses under its policies, and to return to the insured the surplus at stated periods, and strict economy is observed.

Every insured person is a member of the company and shares in the profits of the business, and is subject to no liability or assessments beyond his premium.

The directors are required to be peculiarly interested in the company, and they give their personal attention; and bonds of sufficient security are given by its officers for the faithful performance of their duties.

Insurance may be effected for the benefit of the wife, which is secured to her by law beyond the reach of a husband's creditors; and creditors may insure the lives of debtors.

Highly Important to Farmers.
THE ONLY EXCLUSIVE FARMERS' INSURANCE COMPANY IN THE WEST.

LOCATED AT MADISON, WISCONSIN.

THIS Company continues to take risks upon Farm Property, real and personal, consisting of buildings of all kinds, (including barns,) household furniture, grain in barns, live stock, &c., from season to season, at lower rates than most other responsible companies.

All losses promptly paid at the office as soon as proof is made thereof.

We believe it to be for the interest of the farmers to insure by themselves, their property being less hazardous than any other, consequently you will have no losses only your own of the same class, and all will be on an equal footing.

Experience has shown that two-thirds, if not three-fourths of all the fires that occur are upon stores, barns, mills, shops and such like property. In this company all such property is rejected positively, by LETTING THEM ALONE.

Farmers, look to your own interest, and insure in a Farmers' Company.

We have been doing business a little over three years, and we have not been obliged to assess our premium notes, and for the last fourteen months we have not had a single dollar loss, though doing a large and prosperous business, which we believe to be without a parallel in the history of insurance.

The best of references given as to the responsibility of the company.

CELEBRATED WORMWOOD CORDIAL.

THE subscriber in introducing this valuable temperance beverage, would respectfully call the attention of the public to the fact, that it is prepared from green Wormwood, an herb that grows luxuriantly in the New England States, the medicinal qualities of which, for the regulation of the stomach and blood, cannot be equalled by anything ever used.

RAILROAD STORE!
I WISH to call attention, as I have done before,

To the Goods I am receiving now at the Railroad Store. Where all the newest Fashions, to suit the young and old,

The richest and the cheapest goods in Janesville, will be sold.

My large and splendid stock of Lawns to suit I'm always willing.

The price, as all the Ladies know, is from sixpence to a shilling.

I've Fine Black Silks from Italy, and colored ones that are new.

Flaid, Groceries and Marcellaines, and Florences to spare.

And such a lot of Hosiery, I know cannot be beat.

And Gloves a great variety, they are so very neat. Just now, when Spring is coming, and every thing looks bright.

For a glove to suit the season, the color should be light.

There are other Goods for Ladies, of which they ought to know.

That I keep in those blue boxes, and am always pleased to show.

Such as Muslin and Linen Edging, Cotton and Cambric, and Muslin and Cambric Needlework, and Gimps of every hue.

Those Underclothes and Chimettes I almost had forgot.

And Ladies' Needlework Collars, so beautifully wrought. With Bishop Lawns and Cambrics, and Mullins fine and neat.

And Lace to make old ladies' Caps and trim them off completely.

And to party, let's "directer rays," I've Parasols to sell.

Of every price and color—they please the Ladies well—And Umbrellas cheap for Genls., or so at least they say. But lots of them get carried off, on every rainy day.

Such lots of Combs for the million, of every sort and kind.

To puff, or curl, or plait the hair, no better can you find.

And every kind of Buttons for dresses, coats and vests. To sell by the gross or dozen—they are the very best.

And for Gentlemen and little Boys I have Fashionable Hats.

Silk, linen, Leghorn, Panama, and cloth and leather Caps.

And for infants, Hats with feathers and ribbons gay and bright.

And little Caps with tassels drab, orange, blue and white.

I have stacks of Linen, of yellow, brown and white. And every other kind of Summer Goods that's right. To make up into coats and pantaloons and vests—As large a stock as any, that ever was brought West.

They say long advertisements are not the oftentimes read.

And that most may be meant, as oft, when least is said, In view of this, I'll close my bill, and here invite you to call.

Whenever you come to Janesville, be sure and give me a call.

Janesville, June 8th, 1854.

Capital and accumulation, $460,000.
THIS Company is one of the oldest, and among the most prudently and successfully conducted in the country. The primary object in conducting its business, is to provide perfect security under all conceivable circumstances, for the payment of its losses under its policies, and to return to the insured the surplus at stated periods, and strict economy.

Every insured person is a member of the company and shares in the profits of the business, and is subject to no liability or assessments beyond his premium. The directors are required to be peculiarly interested in the company, and they give its personal attention; and bonds of sufficient security are given by its officers for the faithful performance of their duties. Insurance may be effected for the benefit of the wife, which is secured to her by her husband, and a husband's creditors; and creditors may insure the lives of debtors.

Highly Important to Farmers.
THE ONLY EXCLUSIVE FARMERS' INSURANCE COMPANY IN THE WEST.
THE MADISON MUTUAL, LOCATED AT MADISON, WISCONSIN.

THIS Company continues to take risks upon Farm Property only, consisting of buildings of all kinds, including barns, and all other kinds of property, at the lowest rates, and at the most reasonable rates. All losses promptly paid at the office as soon as proof is made.

We believe it to be for the interest of the farmers to insure by themselves, their property being less hazardous than any other, consequently they will have no loss over and over of the same class, and all will be on an equal footing.

Experience has shown that two-thirds, if not three-fourths of all the fires that occur are upon stores, taverns, mills, shops and such property. To this company such property is rejected, and by letting them alone, the farmers are protected.

Partners, look to this company, and insure in a Farmers' Company. We have been in existence three years, and we have never been obliged to assess our premium notes, and for the last fourteen months we have not had a single dollar loss, though doing a large and prosperous business, which we believe to be without a parallel in the history of insurance.

The best of references given us to the responsibility of the company.

FOUR CHANGE IT.
A CHARGE FOR NEW BUSINESS IN LIFE.
BY AUSTIN C. BURDICK.

"Charles, what did this peach preserve cost?"
"I'm sure I don't know, Hannah."
"But you bought it this morning."
"I know I did, but I didn't ask the price of it."

"Did not you pay for it?"
"No."
"Why not?"
"O, because I couldn't stop to make change. I have opened an account with Mr. Waldron and shall hereafter settle on in three months."

This conversation was going on at the table between Charles Matthews and his wife. Matthews was a young mechanic who had just commenced housekeeping, and as he was making excellent wages he could afford to live pretty well. After he had made known his determined arrangement to his wife she remained some time in silent thought.

"Charles," she at length said, in a very mild, persuasive tone, "I think it would be better to pay for things as you take them. You know you receive your pay for labor every Saturday night, and you could pay as you go very easily."

"I know I could," returned Mr. Matthews, with the air of a man who had unanswerable argument at his command; "but then it would not be near so handy. You see, if I pay my store bill but once a quarter I shall save all the trouble of making change; and shall not only save time, but also avoid mistakes."

"Mistakes!" repeated Hannah. "How can mistakes occur when you pay for things as you get them?"

"I will tell you. Sometimes it may not be convenient to pay for a thing when I get it—I may forget my money or I may only take it on trial—then if I pay for a part, and not for all, some things may get charged which I pay for. No, Hannah, a settlement once a quarter will be the best and most convenient all around, I am satisfied of it."

"Well, perhaps it may," said the wife, with an earnest tone and look, and yet with a smile, "but I cannot think so."

"But why not?"
"Why, on all accounts. In the first place you will buy more than you would if you paid cash. Now you needn't shake your head, for I know it. There are many little luxuries, little extras, which we do not need, but which you will yet be apt to buy if you do not have to pay the cash down. I know something of this credit business, and it is not a fair thing. In the second place, if you pay cash for everything you will get your goods cheaper. A trader will sell cheaper when he can have the money in his hand than when he has to carry out the amount on his ledger."

"But let me tell you, Hannah, that Mr. Waldron will not cheat. He is not the man to take advantage in that way."

"You misunderstand me, Charles. Do you not know that all traders can afford to sell cheaper for cash than for credit? Mr. Waldron, for a five-dollar bill, would let you have more sugar than he would for the same amount entered at different times on his ledger. He could afford to do so. Traders like to secure cash customers. I think you would find it to your advantage to try the cash system. Now I do not believe you would have bought this peach preserve if you had had to pay the cash for it."

"But I bought that just to please you, Hannah, and I thought you would accept it gratefully," returned the young husband, in a tone that showed that his feelings were touched.

"I know you did, Charles," said the wife, laying her hand affectionately upon his shoulder, "and I was grateful, for I know you would do anything to please me; but for the sake of helping you I would forego all such things. Perhaps—" and the wife spoke very low—"you might be able to buy a little cottage of your own one of these days."

For several days Charles only sent such things up from the store as were actually needed. At length, as he went into the store one morning on his way to his work, he saw some splendid looking pickles in fancy jars. He had ordered the articles he needed, and was about to leave, when Mr. Waldron spoke:

"Mr. Matthews," said he, "don't you want a jar of these pickles. I carried my wife in a jar last evening, and she thinks them superior to anything she ever saw before."

Now Charles knew that his wife had plenty of plain pickled cucumbers, some that her mother had put down for her, but Mr. Waldron's wife had had some of these fancy ones, and why shouldn't Hannah?

"Shall I send you up a jar?"
"How much are they?"
"Only a dollar."

"Yes, you may send it up, and just charge it, if you please."

"O, certainly. Anything you want you may order at any time, and you may be assured we shall be happy to accommodate you."

Now this was flattering to young Matthews' feelings, to think that the trader had such confidence in him, and he went away with an exceeding good opinion of himself and his credit, and of the store-keeper in particular.

"Only a dollar!" Yes—only a dollar on the trader's ledger,—that is nothing. But a dollar right out of one's pocket—that is different.—Charles would not have bought those pickles if the cash had been required for them.

"Ah, Matthews, look here: I've got something to show you." This was said by the trader to the young man on the very next morning after the purchase of the pickles.

And so Mr. Waldron led our hero out to the back side of the store and opened a box.

"There, Matthews, ain't these nice oranges?"
"They are nice," replied Charles. And so they really were.

"I know your wife would like some of these. I carried some to my wife, and she wanted me to save her four or five dozen."

"There are nice. How do they come?"
"Let's see; I can send you three dozen for a dollar. I got these very cheap. You know they are retailed at five and six cents apiece."

"Yes. Well you may send me up three dozen. Just charge them, if you please."

"Certainly. Anything else this morning?"
"I believe not."

And so Matthews went on. This morning it would be a dollar—tomorrow perhaps fifty cents—and then, again, perhaps only twenty-five cents. It didn't seem much. The young man kept just as much money in his pocket as though he hadn't bought them. "Only a dollar," he would say to himself. "That ain't much out of twelve dollars a week." And so it might not be; but the trouble was, that the next dollar was also "only a dollar." He forgot to add this dollar to the former, and call it "two dollars," and with the next dollar, and call it "three," and so on.

One evening Charles came home with a new gold chain attached to his watch.

"I'm sure I can't guess."
"O, but try—guess something."
"Well, perhaps ten dollars."
"Ten dollars!" echoed Charles, with a sort of disappointed look. "Why, what are you thinking of? Jack Cummings bought this chain two months ago, and paid twenty dollars in cash for it. Why, just half it, and see how heavy it is. Eighteen cents fine. Jack was hard up for money, and he let me have it for twelve dollars."

"It is cheap, to be sure," returned Hannah, but yet with not so much pleasurable surprise as her husband had anticipated. "But," she added, "you did not need it, and I fear you will feel the loss of the money."

"Poh! I have money enough. You know I have spent but very little lately. I have been pretty saving."

"But you forget our things, Charles. The money you have on hand is not yours."

"Not mine?"
"No. It belongs to the store-keeper, and to the butcher, and to our landlord. You know they must be paid."

"Don't you fret about them. I know it don't cost me anywhere near twelve dollars a week to live for I have made an estimate. There is Wilkins, who works right side of me in the shop, he has four children, and only gets the same wages that I do, and yet he lays up some three or four dollars every week, besides paying his rent."

"Yes," said Hannah, "I know he does. I was in to see his wife the other day, and she was telling how well they were getting along. Mr. Wilkins takes his basket every Saturday evening and goes over to the market and buys his week's quantity of meat and vegetables, and trades for cash, so that he gets everything at the best advantage. So he does at the store. He lays in a good quantity of all those articles that will keep, and buys them as cheap as he can. Butter, eggs, cheese, apples, and so on, he buys when the market is full, and when they are cheap, and he always buys enough to last his family over the season of scarcity, when such things are high. His butter, for instance, he bought for eighteen cents a pound—a large skin of it—and it is much sweeter than that for which you paid twenty-eight cents yesterday."

"Twenty-eight cents!" repeated the young man, in surprise.

"Yes, I asked Mr. Waldron's man, who brought it up, and he said it had risen to twenty-eight cents. Mr. Wilkins got fifty dozen of eggs some time ago, and his wife packed them down, and they keep well. You will have to pay Mr. Waldron thirty-three cents for those eggs sent up yesterday."

Charles Matthews was somewhat astonished at this view of the case, but it could not be helped now, and the subject was dropped.—His gold chain had lost its charm. It did not look so well, even in his own eyes, as had the simple black cord he had worn before.

ACCIDENTAL POISONING.—We have just heard the particulars of a case of poisoning, an account of which may serve to prevent future accidents of a like character. The facts are briefly these:

On Saturday last, a young man named Edwiny came from Jefferson Prairie and engaged to work for Mr. Andrews, of Alton. On Monday, he felt symptoms of fever and ague, and sent to Beloit for a supply of quinine. The messenger returned on Tuesday morning, gave young Rowley, a package, from which he was passing into an eating house—took a quantity sufficient for a large dose of quinine, and called for a cup of coffee. Before he had finished drinking this, he was seized with spasms, and in less than half an hour was a corpse. In his pocket was found the remainder of the package containing the supposed medicine, which proved to be strychnine. This was obtained at Dr. Carey's drug store in this place, and was enveloped in two papers, the outer one being marked "poison," and the inner one "strychnine," with a pen, although not very plainly. No culpable intention is attached to any one in this melancholy affair; but to ensure an additional safeguard from such fatal mistakes, we think that poison should only be dispensed in packages distinctly marked with printed labels.—Beloit Journal.

SHORT HORSE SOON CURBED.—A PORTRAIT.—If there ever was a sketch true to nature the following of senator Douglas is it. We cut it from the Courier and Enquirer:

There is no man in the United States senate so dogmatic, so uncharitable, so overbearing, and so virulent as he. His temper, both by nature and habit, is imperious; and opposition is sure to madden him. He knows no such thing as a distrust of his own judgment. Having once pronounced, he expects concurrence on the penalty of being proclaimed dishonest and factious. He measures motives as well as opinions by his own mental standard, and never suffers character to serve as a shield. Personal weapons are his delight, and cruel thrusts his peculiar ability. There may be doubt in regard to the actual merits of the Nebraska bill, but of the indecently arrogant and domineering championship of that bill by its author there is no doubt.—The bitterness of his aspirations upon the opponents of the measures excited general disgust. His diatribe against the clergy was actually swollen with venom. From the day when he attempted to rack the New Hampshire editor for the offense of thinking freely on the bill, down to the unprecedented and tyrannical abrogation of the rules of the house effected through his agency, he showed the utmost possible disrespect for the opinions and disregard for the rights of others. If any man by his conduct could have put himself beyond the pale of tolerance, Stephen A. Douglas did it.

THE THREE BROTHERS WASHBURN.—There were two brothers of the Washburn family in the last congress, one from Maine, and one from Illinois.

We notice that a third one, Cadwallader C. Washburn, has been nominated by the whigs in Wisconsin, with a very good chance of an election, unless the democracy heal their divisions. There is said to be another one equal to any of the three, in California.

These brothers are all violent whigs; have more than ordinary talents, and few are before them in any kind of tact.

The member from the Galena district in this state, has no superior as a tactician among the whigs of Illinois.—Chicago Democrat.

THE YELLOW FEVER AT AUGUSTA.—Nearly the whole white population of Augusta has left, and pitched tents in various parts of the country for miles around. The fever is increasing.—The post office is closed, and the mails consequently delayed, as there is no one to distribute them. No southern papers have been received here since Monday.

ROCK COUNTY VALUATION.—The clerk of the Rock county board of supervisors has furnished the Janesville Gazette with the following "equalized" valuation of the county as returned from the state board of equalization.—Mil. Sent.

By order of the County Committee.

During the present week one of our workmen has been absent from the office, and to help the case, yesterday was our weekly publication day. Of course, our reading columns show the effect of these causes. There is a better or worse time coming.

"HERE SHE GOES AND THERE SHE GOES."—The steamship Alps arrived at Boston on the 27th, with news of an advance on flour in the English market, and the America at Halifax on the 28th, with three days later news, and reporting a decline on flour. It is one of the strange things of the present age, that such fluctuations across the ocean, should possess any interest in the interior of Wisconsin; yet such is the fact, and the arrival of every steamship sets first the wheat-buyers and then the grain-growers in a ferment. When, as in the present case, only a few hours intervene between news of an advance and a decline, the sensation must be remarkably pleasant!

The steamship America brings a report that the allied armies are getting ready to do something against Russia. All the naval forces are withdrawing from the Baltic, and a large land and naval force departing for an attack on Crimea.

Our minister to Spain, Soule, is getting into a muss with the Spanish government, the Spanish newspapers, and every body else. He had better be recalled, if he has not been dismissed.

Merchandise for Janesville arrived at Milwaukee on the 28th for Ogilvie & Barrows, H. S. Edwards, J. B. Dimock, McKey & Bro., L. Darling, Cooley & Babcock, Hasleton & Hutson.

There are a few additional returns from the 9th judicial district. Collins is elected, beyond doubt, by a fair majority.

ACCIDENT ON THE RAILROAD.—As the yesterday morning freight-train, consisting of 23 loaded cars, was approaching Fulton from the west, and about four miles from it, the engineer observed a man walking on the side of the track, about 60 rods ahead of the train. He sounded the whistle when within about 30 rods, thinking the man would step farther aside; he then whistled to brake, but the train could not be fully stopped, before the leading beam of the engine struck the man on the side, knocking him down. The engineer jumped off, picked him up, and the train was stopped before it had fully passed the spot. A doctor was sent for to Fulton by the conductor, and as much attention shown to him as possible, but it was feared he could not live till this morning. He was a very old man, with white hair, named Daniel Courtney, and is the man who was struck by a gravel train while walking on the track last winter. He was almost totally deaf.—Milwaukee Sentinel, yesterday.

Mr. Courtney, we learn, has since died.

Haggarty, one of the leaders in the riot on Monday night, has been set at liberty by Justice Seymour and Bruley, on the trifling bail of $500. Mr. Gibson who was stabbed, is still living; but little hope, however, is entertained of his recovery. A public meeting is to be held at the court house this evening to adopt measures to prevent a repetition of such riots, and also to talk over the matter of "straw bail."—Madison Journal.

HYGIENA.

BROUGHT HOME TO THE DOOR OF THE MILLION. A wonderful discovery has recently been made by Dr. Curtis, of this city, in the treatment of consumption, asthma and all diseases of the lung. We refer to "Dr. Curtis' Hygeena, or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup." With this new method Dr. C. has restored many afflicted ones to perfect health; as an evidence of which he has innumerable certificates. Speaking of the treatment, a physician remarks: "It is evident that inhaling—constantly breathing an agreeable, healing vapor, the medicinal properties must come in direct contact with the whole of the arid cavity of the lungs, and thus escape the many and varied changes produced upon them when introduced into the stomach, and subjected to the process of digestion. The Hygeena is for sale at all the druggists' throughout the country."—New York Dutchman of Jan. 14.

The inhaler is worn on the breast under the linen without the least inconvenience—the heat of the body being sufficient to evaporate the fluid.

Hundreds of CASES OF CURIES like the following might be named. One Package of Hygeena has cured me of the ASTHMA of six years standing.—Jas. F. Keenberry, P. M. of Duncannon, Pa.

I am cured of the ASTHMA of 10 years standing by Dr. Curtis' Hygeena.—Margaret Euston, Brooklyn, N. Y.

My sister has been cured of a DISTRESSING COUGH of several years standing, and decided to be incurable by her Physicians. She was CURED IN ONE MONTH by the Hygeena.—J. H. Gubert, P. M., Richmond, Va.

JUST CHARGE IT.
A SKETCH FOR NEW BEGINNERS IN LIFE.

BY AUSTIN C. BURDICK.

"Charles, what did this peach preserve cost?"
"I'm sure I don't know, Hannah."
"But you bought it this morning."
"I know I did, but I didn't ask the price of it."

"Did not you pay for it?"
"No."
"Why not?"
"O, because I couldn't stop to make change. I have opened an account with Mr. Waldron and shall hereafter settle once in three months."

This conversation was going on at the tentable between Charles Matthews and his wife. Matthews was a young mechanic who had just commenced housekeeping, and as he was making excellent wages he could afford to live pretty well. After he had made known his determined arrangement to his wife she remained some time in silent thought.

"Charles," she at length said, in a very mild, persuasive tone, "I think it would be better to pay for things as you take them. You know you receive your pay for labor every Saturday night, and you could pay as you go very easily."

"I know I could," returned Mr. Matthews, with the air of a man who had unanswerable argument at his command; "but then it would not be near so handy. You see, if I pay my store bill but once a quarter I shall save all the trouble of making change; and shall not only save time, but also avoid mistakes."

"Mistakes?" repeated Hannah. "How can mistakes occur when you pay for things as you get them?"

"I will tell you. Sometimes it may not be convenient to pay for a thing when I get it—I may forget my money or I may only take it on trial—then if I pay for a part, and not for all, some things may get charged which I pay for. No, Hannah, a settlement once a quarter will be the best and most convenient all around, I am satisfied of it."

"Well, perhaps it may," said the wife, with an earnest tone and look, and yet with a smile, "but I cannot think so."

"Why not?"
"Why, on all accounts. In the first place you will buy more than you would if you paid cash. Now you needn't shake your head, for I know it. There are many little luxuries, little extras, which we do not need, but which you will yet be apt to buy if you do not have to pay the cash down. I know something of this credit business, and it is not a fair thing. In the second place, if you pay cash for everything you will get your goods cheaper. A trader will sell cheaper when he can have the money in his hand than when he has to carry out the amount on his ledger."

"But let me tell you, Hannah, that Mr. Waldron will not cheat. He is not the man to take advantage in that way."

"You misunderstand me, Charles. Do you not know that all traders can afford to sell cheaper for cash than for credit? Mr. Waldron, for a five-dollar bill, would let you have more sugar than he would for the same amount entered at different times on his ledger. He could afford to do so. Traders like to secure cash customers. I think you would find it to our advantage to try the cash system. Now I do not believe you would have bought this peach preserve if you had had to pay the cash for it."

"But I bought that just to please you, Hannah, and I thought you would accept it gracefully," returned the young husband, in a tone that showed that his feelings were touched.

"I know you did, Charles," said the wife, laying her hand affectionately upon his shoulder, "and I was grateful for it. I know you would do anything to please me; but for the sake of helping you I would forego all such things. Perhaps—and the wife spoke very low—"you might be able to buy a little cottage of your own one of these days."

For several days Charles only sent such things up from the store as were actually needed. At length, as he went into the store one morning on his way to his work, he saw some splendid looking pickles in fancy jars. He had ordered the articles he needed, and was about to leave, when Mr. Waldron spoke:

"Mr. Matthews," said he, "don't you want a jar of these pickles. I carried my wife in a jar last evening, and she thinks them superior to anything she ever saw before."

Now Charles knew that his wife had plenty of plain pickled cucumbers, some that her mother had put down for her, but Mr. Waldron's wife had had some of these fancy ones, and why shouldn't Hannah?

"Shall I send you up a jar?"
"How much are they?"
"Only a dollar."

"Yes, you may send it up, and just charge it, if you please."

"O, certainly. Anything you want you may order at any time, and you may be assured we shall be happy to accommodate you."

Now this was flattering to young Matthews' feelings, to think that the trader had such confidence in him, and he went away with an exceeding good opinion of himself and his credit, and of the store-keeper in particular.

"Only a dollar!" Yes—only a dollar on the trader's ledger—that is nothing. But a dollar right out of one's pocket—that is different.—Charles would not have bought those pickles if the cash had been required for them.

"Ah, Matthews, look here: I've got something to show you." This was said by the trader to the young man on the very next morning after the purchase of the pickles.

And so Mr. Waldron led our hero out to the back side of the store and opened a box.

"There, Matthews, ain't these nice oranges?"
"They are nice," replied Charles. And so they really were.

"I know your wife would like some of these. I carried some to my wife, and she wanted me to save her four or five dozen."

"These are nice. How do they come?"
"Let's see; I can send you up three dozen for a dollar. I got these very cheap. You know they are retailing at five and six cents apiece."

"Yes. Well you may send me up three dozen. Just charge them, if you please."

"Certainly. Anything else this morning?"
"I believe not."

And so Matthews went on. This morning it would be a dollar—to-morrow perhaps fifty cents—and then, again, perhaps only twenty-five cents. It didn't seem much. The young man kept just as much money in his pocket as though he hadn't bought them. "Only a dollar," he would say to himself. "That isn't much out of twelve dollars a week." And so it might not be; but the trouble was, that the next dollar was also "only a dollar." He forgot to add this dollar to the former, and call it "two dollars," and with the next dollar, and call it "three," and so on.

One evening Charles came home with a new gold chain attached to his watch.

"Where did you get that?" asked his wife.
"Ah!" returned the husband, with an impressive shake of the head, "I made a bargain in this chain. Now just guess what I paid for it."

"I'm sure I can't guess."
"O, but try—guess something."
"Well, perhaps ten dollars."

"Ten dollars!" echoed Charles, with a sort of disappointed look. "Why, what are you thinking of? Jack Cummings bought this chain two months ago, and paid twenty dollars in cash for it. Why, just left it and see how heavy it is. Eighteen carats fine. Jack was hard up for money, and he let me have it for twelve dollars."

"It is cheap, to be sure," returned Hannah, but yet with not so much pleasurable surprise as her husband had anticipated. "But," she added, "you did not need it, and I fear you will feel the loss of the money."

"Pooh! I have money enough. You know I have spent but very little lately. I have been pretty saving."

"But you forget our things, Charles. The money you have on hand is not yours."

"Not mine?"
"No. It belongs to the store-keeper, and to the butcher, and to our landlord. You know they must be paid."

"Don't you fret about them. I know it don't cost me anywhere near twelve dollars a week to live, for I have made an estimate. There is Wilkins, who works right side of me in the shop, he has four children, and only gets the same wages that I do, and yet he lays up some three or four dollars every week, besides paying his rent."

"Yes," said Hannah, "I know he does. I was in to see his wife the other day, and she was telling how well they were getting along. Mr. Wilkins takes his basket every Saturday evening and goes over to the market and buys his week's quantity of meat and vegetables, and trades for cash, so that he gets everything at the best advantage. So he does at the store. He lays in a good quantity of all those articles that will keep, and buys them as cheap as he can. Butter, eggs, cheese, apples, and so on, he buys when the market is full, and when they are cheap, and he always buys enough to last his family over the season of scarcity, when such things are high. His butter, for instance, he bought for eighteen cents a pound—a large firkin of it—and it is much sweeter than that for which you paid twenty-eight cents yesterday."

"Twenty-eight cents!" repeated the young man, in surprise.

"Yes. I asked Mr. Waldron's man, who brought it up, and he said it had risen to twenty-eight cents. Mr. Wilkins got fifty dozen of eggs some time ago, and his wife packed them down, and they keep well. You will have to pay Mr. Waldron thirty-three cents for those you sent up yesterday."

Charles Matthews was somewhat astonished at this view of the case, but it could not be helped now, and the subject was dropped.—His gold chain had lost its charm. It did not look so well, even in his own eyes, as had the simple black cord he had worn before.

[Concluded Monday.]

ACCIDENTAL POISONING.—We have just heard the particulars of a sad case of poisoning, an account of which may serve to prevent future accidents of a like character. The facts are briefly these:

On Saturday last, a young man named Rowley came from Jefferson Prairie and engaged to work for Mr. Andrews, of Afton. On Monday, he felt symptoms of fever and ague, and sent to Beloit for a supply of quinine. The messenger returned on Tuesday morning, gave young Rowley, a package, from which he—passing into an eating house—took a quantity sufficient for a large dose of quinine, and called for a cup of coffee. Before he had finished drinking this, he was seized with spasms, and in less than half an hour was a corpse. In his pocket was found the remainder of the package containing the supposed medicine, which proved to be strychnine. This was obtained at Dr. Carey's drug store in this place, and was enveloped in two papers, the outer one being marked "poison," and the inner one "strychnine," with a pen, although not very plainly. No culpable intention is attached to any one in this melancholy affair; but to ensure an additional safeguard from such fatal mistakes, we think that poison should only be dispensed in packages distinctly marked with printed labels.—Beloit Journal.

SHORT HORSE SOON CARRIED.—A PORTRAIT.—If there ever was a sketch true to nature the following of senator Douglass is it. We cut it from the Courier and Enquirer:

There is no man in the United States senate so dogmatic, so uncharitable, so overbearing, and so violent as he. His temper, both by nature and habit, is imperious; and opposition is sure to madden him. He knows no such thing as a distrust of his own judgment. Having once pronounced, he exacts concurrence on the penalty of being proclaimed dishonest and factious. He measures motives as well as opinions by his own mental standard, and never suffers character to serve as a shield. Personal weapons are his delight, and cruel thrusts his peculiar ability. There may be doubt in regard to the actual merits of the Nebraska bill, but of the indecently arrogant and domineering championship of that bill by its author there is no doubt.—The bitterness of his aspersions upon the opponents of the measures excited general disgust. His diatribe against the clergy was actually swollen with venom. From the day when he attempted to rack the New Hampshire editor for the offence of thinking freely on the bill, down to the unprecedented and tyrannical abrogation of the rules of the house effected through his agency, he showed the utmost possible disrespect for the opinions and disregard for the rights of others. If any man by his conduct could have put himself beyond the pale of tolerance, Stephen A. Douglass did it.

THE THREE BROTHERS WASHBURN.—There were two brothers of the Washburn family in the last congress, one from Maine, and one from Illinois.

We notice that a third one, Cadwallader C. Washburn, has been nominated by the whigs in Wisconsin, with a very good chance of an election, unless the democracy heal their divisions. There is said to be another one equal to any of the three, in California.

These brothers are all violent whigs; have more than ordinary talents, and few are before them in any kind of tact.

The member from the Galena district in this state, has no superior as a politician among the whigs of Illinois.—Chicago Democrat.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 23.

THE YELLOW FEVER AT AUGUSTA.—Nearly the whole white population of Augusta has left, and pitched tents in various parts of the country for miles around. The fever is increasing. The post office is closed, and the mails consequently delayed, as there is no one to distribute them. No southern papers have been received here since Monday.

ROCK COUNTY VALUATION.—The clerk of the Rock county board of supervisors has furnished the Janesville Gazette with the following "equalized" valuation of the county as returned from the state board of equalization.—Mil. Sent.

17th SENATORIAL DISTRICT CONVENTION.

At the same time and place above designated in the respective towns and wards for meetings, to choose delegates to the county convention, the Republican electors of the wards of the city of Janesville, and of the towns in this county comprised in the 17th senatorial district, are requested to select an equal number of delegates to which they are entitled under the above appointment in the county convention, to represent them in a senatorial convention hereby called at the Court House in Janesville, on THURSDAY the 12th day of October next at 11 o'clock, A. By order of the County Committee.

During the present week one of our workmen has been absent from the office, and to help the case, yesterday was our weekly publication day. Of course, our reading columns show the effect of these causes. There is a better or worse time coming.

"HERE SHE GOES AND THERE SHE GOES."—The steamship Alps arrived at Boston on the 27th, with news of an advance on flour in the English market, and the America at Halifax on the 28th, with three days later news, and reporting a decline on flour. It is one of the strange things of the present age, that such fluctuations across the ocean, should possess any interest in the interior of Wisconsin; yet such is the fact, and the arrival of every steamship sets first the wheat-buyers and then the grain-growers in a ferment. When, as in the present case, only a few hours intervene between news of an advance and a decline, the sensation must be remarkably pleasant!

The steamship America brings a report that the allied armies are getting ready to do something against Russia. All the naval forces are withdrawing from the Baltic, and a large land and naval force departing for an attack on Crimea.

Our minister to Spain, Soule, is getting into a muss with the Spanish government, the Spanish newspapers, and every body else. He had better be recalled, if he has not been dismissed.

Merchandise for Janesville arrived at Milwaukee on the 28th for Ogilvie & Barrows, H. S. Edwards, J. B. Dimock, McKee & Bro., L. Darling, Cooley & Babcock, Hasleton & Hutson.

There are a few additional returns from the 9th judicial district. Collins is elected, beyond doubt, by a fair majority.

ACCIDENT ON THE RAILROAD.—As the yesterday morning freight-train, consisting of 23 loaded cars, was approaching Fulton from the west, and about four miles from it, the engineer observed a man walking on the side of the track, about 60 rods ahead of the train. He sounded the whistle when within about 20 rods, thinking the man would step farther aside; he then whistled to brake, but the train could not be fully stopped, before the leading beam of the engine struck the man on the side, knocking him down. The engineer jumped off, picked him up, and the train was stopped before it had fully passed the spot. A doctor was sent for to Fulton by the conductor, and as much attention shown to him as possible, but it was feared he could not live till this morning. He was a very old man, with white hair, named Daniel Courtney, and is the man who was struck by a gravel train while walking on the track last winter. He was almost totally deaf.—Milwaukee Sentinel, yesterday.

Mr. Courtney, we learn, has since died.

Haggarty, one of the leaders in the riot on Monday night, has been set at liberty by Justice Seymour and Bailey, on the trifling bail of $500. Mr. Gibson who was stabbed, is still living; but little hope, however, is entertained of his recovery. A public meeting is to be held at the court house this evening to adopt measures to prevent repetition of such riots, and also to talk over the matter of "straw ball."

JUST CHANGE IT.
A SKETCH FOR NEW BEGINNERS IN LIFE.
BY AUSTIN C. BURDICK.

"Charles, what did this peach preserve cost?"
"I'm sure I don't know, Hannah."
"But you bought it this morning."
"I know I did, but I didn't ask the price of it."
"Did not you pay for it?"
"No."
"Why not?"
"O, because I couldn't stop to make change. I have opened an account with Mr. Waldron and shall hereafter settle on in three months."
This conversation was going on at the table between Charles Matthews and his wife. Matthews was a young mechanic who had just commenced housekeeping, and as he was making excellent wages he could afford to live pretty well. After he had made known his determined arrangement to his wife she remained some time in silent thought.

"Charles," she at length said, in a very mild, persuasive tone, "I think it would be better to pay for things as you take them. You know you receive your pay for labor every Saturday night, and you could pay as you go very easily."
"I know I could," returned Mr. Matthews, with the air of a man who had unanswerable argument at his command; "but then it would not be near so handy. You see, if I pay my store bill but once a quarter I shall save all the trouble of making change, and shall not only save time, but also avoid mistakes."
"Mistakes?" repeated Hannah. "How can mistakes occur when you pay for things as you get them?"
"I will tell you. Sometimes it may not be convenient to pay for a thing when I take it—I may forget my money or I may only take it on trial—then if I pay for a part, and not for all, some things may get charged which I pay for. No, Hannah, a settlement once a quarter will be the best and most convenient all around, I am satisfied of it."
"Well, perhaps it may," said the wife, with an earnest tone and look, and yet with a smile, "but I cannot but say."
"But why not?"
"Why, on all accounts. In the first place you will buy more than you would if you paid cash. Now you needn't shake your head, for I know it. There are many little luxuries, little extras, which do not need, but which you will yet be apt to buy if you do not have to pay the cash down. I know something of this credit business, and it is not a fair thing. In the second place, if you pay cash for everything you will get your goods cheaper. A trader will sell cheaper when he can have the money in his hand than when he has to carry out the amount on his ledger."
"But let me tell you, Hannah, that Mr. Waldron will not cheat. He is not the man to take advantage in that way."
"You misunderstand me, Charles. Do you not know that all traders can afford to sell cheaper for cash than for credit? Mr. Waldron, for a five-dollar bill, would let you have more sugar than he would for the same amount entered at different times on his ledger. He could afford to do so. Traders like to secure cash customers. I think you would find it to our advantage to try the cash system. Now I do not believe you would have bought this peach preserve if you had had to pay the cash for it."
"But I bought that just to please you, Hannah, and I thought you would accept it gratefully," returned the young husband, in a tone that showed that his feelings were touched.

"I know you did, Charles," said the wife, laying her hand affectionately upon his shoulder, "and I was grateful, for I know you would do anything to please me; but for the sake of helping you I would forego all such things. Perhaps—and the wife spoke very low—"you might be able to buy a little cottage of your own one of these days."

For several days Charles only sent such things up from the store as were actually needed. At length, as he went into the store one morning on his way to his work, he saw some splendid looking pickles in fancy jars. He had ordered the articles he needed, and was about to leave, when Mr. Waldron spoke:

"Mr. Matthews," said he, "don't you want a jar of these pickles. I carried my wife in a jar last evening, and she thinks them superior to anything she ever saw before."

Now Charles knew that his wife had plenty of plain pickled cucumbers, some that her mother had put down for her, but Mr. Waldron's wife had had some of these fancy ones, and why shouldn't Hannah?

"Shall I send you up a jar?"
"How much are they?"
"Only a dollar."
"Yes, you may send it up, and just charge it, if you please."
"O, certainly. Anything you want you may order at any time, and you may be assured we shall be happy to accommodate you."

Now this was flattering to young Matthews' feelings, to think that the trader had such confidence in him, and he went away with an exceeding good opinion of himself and his credit, and of the store-keeper in particular.

"Only a dollar!" Yes—only a dollar on the trader's ledger,—that is nothing. But a dollar right out of one's pocket—that is different.—Charles would not have bought these pickles if the cash had been required for them.

"Ah, Matthews, look here! I've got something to show you." This was said by the trader to the young man on the very next morning after the purchase of the pickles.

And so Mr. Waldron led our hero out to the back side of the store and opened a box.

"There, Matthews, ain't these nice oranges?"
"They are nice," replied Charles. And so they really were.

"I know your wife would like some of these. I carried some to my wife, and she wanted me to save her four or five dozen."
"These are nice. How do they come?"
"Let's see; I can send you up three dozen for a dollar. I got these very cheap. You know they are retailing at five and six cents apiece."
"Yes. Well you may send me up three dozen. Just charge them, if you please."
"Certainly. Anything else this morning?"
"And so Matthews went on. This morning it would be a dollar—to-morrow perhaps fifty cents—and then, again, perhaps only twenty-five cents. It didn't seem much. The young man kept just as much money in his pocket as though he hadn't bought them. "Only a dollar," he would say to himself. "That isn't much out of twelve dollars a week." And so it might not be; but the trouble was, that the next dollar was also "only a dollar." He forgot to add this dollar to the former, and call it "two dollars," and with the next dollar, and call it "three," and so on.

One evening Charles came home with a new gold chain attached to his watch.

"Where did you get that?" asked his wife.

"Ah!" returned the husband, with an impressive shake of the head, "I made a bargain in this chain. Now just guess what I paid for it."

17th SENATORIAL DISTRICT CONVENTION.

At the same time and place above designated in the respective towns and wards for meetings, to choose delegates to the county convention, the Republican electors of the wards of the city of Janesville, and of the towns in this county comprised in the 17th senatorial district, are requested to select an equal number of delegates to which they are entitled under the above appointment in the county convention, to represent them in a senatorial convention hereby called at the Court House in Janesville, on THURSDAY the 12th day of October next at 11 o'clock, A. M., to nominate a candidate for senator.

By order of the County Committee.

During the present week one of our workmen has been absent from the office, and to help the case, yesterday was our weekly publication day. Of course, our reading columns show the effect of these causes. There is a better or worse time coming.

"HERE SHE GOES AND THERE SHE GOES."

The steamship Alps arrived at Boston on the 27th, with news of an advance on flour in the English market, and the America at Halifax on the 28th, with three days later news, and reporting a decline on flour. It is one of the strange things of the present age, that such fluctuations across the ocean, should possess any interest in the interior of Wisconsin; yet such is the fact, and the arrival of every steamship sets first the wheat-buyers and then the grain-growers in a ferment. When, as in the present case, only a few hours intervene between news of an advance and a decline, the sensation must be remarkably pleasant!

The steamship America brings a report that the allied armies are getting ready to do something against Russia. All the naval forces are withdrawing from the Baltic, and a large land and naval force departing for an attack on Crimea.

Our minister to Spain, Soule, is getting into a muse with the Spanish government, the Spanish newspapers, and every body else. He had better be recalled, if he has not been dismissed.

Merchandise for Janesville arrived at Milwaukee on the 28th for Ogilvie & Barrows, H. S. Edwards, J. B. Dimock, McKee & Bro., L. Dailing, Cooley & Babcock, Hasleton & Hutson.

There are a few additional returns from the 9th judicial district. Collins is elected, beyond doubt, by a fair majority.

ACCIDENT ON THE RAILROAD.—As the yesterday morning freight-train, consisting of 23 loaded cars, was approaching Fulton from the west, and about four miles from it, the engineer observed a man walking on the side of the track, about 60 rods ahead of the train. He sounded the whistle when within about 20 rods, thinking the man would step farther aside; he then whistled to brake, but the train could not be fully stopped, before the leading beam of the engine struck the man on the side, knocking him down. The engineer jumped off, picked him up, and the train was stopped before it had fully passed the spot. A doctor was sent for to Fulton by the conductor, and as much attention shown to him as possible, but it was feared he could not live till this morning. He was a very old man, with white hair, named Daniel Courtney, and is the man who was struck by a gravel train while walking on the track last winter. He was almost totally deaf.—Milwaukee Sentinel, yesterday.

Mr. Courtney, we learn, has since died.

Haggarty, one of the leaders in the riot on Monday night, has been set at liberty by Justice Seymour and Bruley, on the trifling bail of $500. Mr. Gibson who was stabbed, is still living; but little hope, however, is entertained at the court house this evening to adopt measures to prevent a repetition of such riots, and also to talk over the matter of "straw ball."

NOTICE is hereby given that at the next general election to be held in the State of Wisconsin, on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November, being the seventh day of said month, the following officers are to be elected:

A Representative in Congress for the second Congressional District, comprising the counties of Adams, Madison, Dane, Grant, Green, Iowa, Jackson, La Crosse, La Fayette, Lincoln, Marathon, Monroe, Pierce, Polk, Rock, Richland, Rock, St. Croix, Sauk, and Trempealeau, in the place of Ben O. Sheriff, Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, Clerk of the Circuit Court, District Attorney, County Treasurer, Register of Deeds, County Surveyor and Coroner.

Amend Section 4 of Article 4, as to read as follows: "The members of assembly shall be chosen biennially, by the first Monday in November, the qualified electors of the several districts; such districts to be bounded by county, precincts, town or ward lines, to consist of contiguous territory, and to be in as compact a form as practicable."

Amend Section 5 of Article 4, as to read as follows: "The senate districts shall be numbered in regular series. The senators chosen by the present old numbered districts, in the year 1854, shall hold their offices until the last day of December 1856. The senators chosen by the present even numbered districts, in the year 1855, shall hold their offices until the last day of December 1857. Thereafter senators shall be chosen for the term of four years, but the legislature at any new apportionment, shall so classify the districts as to be divided into four equal districts, which may be formed, that the term of office of all senators elected from even numbered districts, shall expire at the same time, and the term of office of all senators elected from odd numbered districts, shall expire at the same time, as follows: "The legislature shall meet at the seat of government once in two years, and not often, unless convened by the governor."

Each elector may vote for or against the first of the above named amendments, by depositing in a ballot containing the following words: "For amendment to section four," or "against amendment to section four," and for or against the second of the above amendments by depositing a ballot containing the words, "for amendment to section five," or "against amendment to section five," and for or against the third of the above amendments by depositing a ballot containing the words "for amendment to section eleven," or "against amendment to section eleven." The votes given by any elector for or against any or all of said amendments shall be counted as follows: "The elector shall be deemed to have voted for or against any amendment, if he has deposited a ballot containing the words 'for amendment to section four,' or 'against amendment to section four,' or 'for amendment to section five,' or 'against amendment to section five,' or 'for amendment to section eleven,' or 'against amendment to section eleven.' The qualification of the electors to be the same, and the votes canvassed and returned in the same manner as in election for state officers."

BROUGHT HOME TO THE DOOR OF THE MILLION.

A wonderful discovery has recently been made by Dr. Curtis, of this city, in the treatment of consumption, asthma and all diseases of the lung. We refer to "Dr. Curtis' Hygeana, or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup." With this new method Dr. C. has restored many afflicted ones to perfect health; as an evidence of which he has innumerable certificates. Speaking of the treatment, a physician remarks: "It is evident that inhaling—constantly breathing an agreeable, healing vapor, the medicinal properties must come in direct contact with the whole of the aerial cavity of the lungs, and thus escape the many and varied changes produced upon them when introduced into the stomach, and subjected to the process of digestion. The Hygeana is for sale at all the druggists' throughout the country."

—New York Dutchman of Jan. 11.

The Inhaler is worn on the breast under the linen without the least inconvenience—the heat of the body being sufficient to evaporate the fluid.

Hundreds of CASES of CURES like the following might be named. One Package of Hygeana has cured me of the ASTHMA of six years standing.—John F. Keeberry, P. M. of Danemount, Pa.

I am cured of the ASTHMA of 15 years standing by Dr. Curtis' Hygeana.—Margaret Eaton, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mrs. Paul of No. 5 Mammoth St., N. Y., was cured of a severe case of Bronchitis by the Hygeana.

My sister has been cured of a DISTRESSING COUGH of several years standing, and decided to be incurable by her Physicians. She was CURED IN ONE MONTH by the Hygeana.—J. H. Gaudet, P. M. Richmond, Me.

Price three Dollars a Package.—Sold by CURTIS & PERKINS and BOYD & PAUL No. 149 Chambers St., N. Y.—A Package sent free by express to any part of the United States for Ten Dollars.

N. B.—Dr. Curtis' Hygeana is the ORIGINAL, and ONLY GENUINE ARTICLE, all others are base imitations or vile and INJURIOUS counterfeits. Shun them as you would POISON.

Something New!!

MR. CHARLES AUSTIN, the celebrated Reel maker has just completed his new Organ Reel, upon which he has labored for the last five years and expended more than six thousand dollars. This reel is different from all others in its composition, being much larger and having more power. It is made of the finest materials, and is manufactured by Messrs. Austin & Co. Organ Reels have an upright (Organ) action and are of the shape of all Church Organs. The price will range from $175 to $300, depending upon the finish of the case. To churches in want of an instrument of that value we would advise them to purchase more power than any common Organ costing $500.

J. P. Pease & Co., Janesville, Wis., are interested in the manufacture and sale of these instruments, and are the only persons through whom they can be had. They will be on hand at the Pease & Co. Store, at Sep. 10, and after that a good assortment as soon as they can be manufactured.

THE Hydromagen is a valuable discovery for protecting the feet from damp or cold, and preventing the growth of a moist and inflamed, without any and despising whatever. The Hydromagen is form of a note, and worn inside the boot or shoe. Its delicate character is a powerful antidote to disease. For Gentlemen it will be found agreeable, warm, and healthy, to wear in the coldest or rainiest weather, as well as in the warmest and sunniest. Ladies may wear the lightest colored boots or shoes the most inclement weather with impunity; while consumption, so prevalent among the young of our country, may be thwarted by their general adoption. For the purpose of preventing the latter cause of colds, it is proper to advise, that the latter cause is to be avoided in a very unobtrusive manner, and is not dangerous were to pedestrians in icy weather, like India rubbers. While the latter cause the feet to appear extremely large, the Hydromagnum, being made of a soft cork prepared, peculiarly adapted to the feet, does not increase the size of the feet, but the feet to appear united. To Children they are extremely valuable, as they may engage in exorcise with comfort and healthy effects. Their expense is so slight as scarcely need mention; besides, those who patronize them, will find their yearly doctor's bills much diminished thereby.

As the Hydromagen is becoming more known, its use is increasing to an almost incredible extent. Last year in London, Manchester, Birmingham, Liverpool, Glasgow, Leeds, Dublin, Paris, Antwerp, Hamburg, and Berlin, our sales reached 1,737,400 pairs of Cork Soles. This year the number will far surpass that. Ask the Faculty their opinion of their value as a preventive for COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, and CONSUMPTION.

THE CHESTNUT
Dr Astley Cooper, Bart, M. D., the Eminent Medical Practitioner, has left a Valuable Legacy to the World in His GREAT PREVENTIVE OF CONSUMPTION,
UNFAILING CURE FOR PULMONARY DISEASES,
(without the use of medicine. Sir A. C., Bart, invented and revised the use of the)
DEDICATED FUR CHEST PROTECTOR
FOR ALL PERSONS OF ALL AGES and conditions, as a certain and safe shield against every fearful disease, consumption, bronchitis, asthma, cough, colds, and other affections of the lungs, which arise from the exposed state of the chest, according to the instructions of the Physicians of our climate.
The Protector is simply a chemically prepared fur lined with silk and padded, which, suspended from the check, covers the cost, is not agreeable to a Whigher taste, and is not a very elegant article. The "Great Eastern," although not recently introduced to America is making rapid progress through the United States, the Canadas, South America, and the West Indies. It has for a long time been a staple article in the English and on the continent of Europe, while it has been in many countries to the position of an article of dress.

To demonstrate these facts enquire of any English resident in your vicinity of his knowledge of the beneficial effects of wearing the "Protectors," and of the value of the doctrine and of the article. The cost of wearing these "Protectors" is a mere trifle, and one will last some years.— One who values the health of himself or his family will not be without them. The hospitals in this country are all recommending them, and regularly introducing them. The London Dispensary, of London, and St. George's Dispensary, of Great Britain, and the Dispensary, England, were originally entrusted with the manufacture of the Protectors, by the Invented doctor, and continue to manufacture according to his original instructions, and therefore conform to the original design, and are as good as new to their be-genuine.

 * Remember this is in staple article, and no Patent Medicine.

THE Hydromagen is a valuable discovery for protecting the feet from damp or cold, and therefore a most important and necessary agent, without any disagreeable effects. It is a permanent adhesive, and will not become soiled by any of the various substances which are liable to be met with in the streets.

The form of a sole, and worn inside the boot or shoe. Its indicated character is a powerful antidote to disease. For Gentlemen it will be found agreeable, warm, and healthy, to wear in the coldest or rainiest weather, as well as in the warmest. For ladies it is equally indicated. Ladies may wear the lightest sole of boots or shoes in the most inclement weather with impunity; while consumption, so prevalent among the young of our country, may be thwarted by their general adoption. The shoe is made of the finest leather, and the leather is so soft as to permit of a very unobtrusive trimness. The soles are not dangerous even to pedestrians in icy weather, like India rubbers. While the latter cause the feet to appear extremely large, the Hydromagan, being made of a solid cork prepared especially for the purpose, does not swell. To the children the shoe is equally applicable. The foot of the child are extremely valuable, as they may engage in exerts with comfort and healthy effects. Their expense is so slight as to scarce need mention; besides, those who patronise the shoe, will find their yearly doctor's bills much diminished thereby.

As the Hydrogen is becoming more known, its use is increasing to an almost incredible extent. Last year in London, Manchester, Birmingham, Liverpool, Glasgow, Cardiff, Dublin, Paris, Antwerp, Hamburg, and Berlin, our sales reached 329,460 pairs of Corks. This year the number will far surpass that.

Ask the Faculty their opinion of their value as a preventive for COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, and CONSUMPTION.

The cost of wearing these articles is a mere trifle, and one will last some years,—and so one who values the health of himself or his family will be without them. JOSIAH T. WRIGHT. aulcd&w Jamestown, Aug. 16th, 1854.

"Charles, what did this peach preserve cost?" "I'm sure I can't guess." "Well, perhaps ten dollars." "Ten dollars!" echoed Charles, with a sort of disappointed look. "Why, what are you thinking of? Jack Cummings bought this chain two months ago, and paid twenty dollars in cash for it. Why, just half it and see how heavy it is. Eighteen cents fine. Jack was hard up for money, and he let me have it for twelve dollars." "It is cheap, to be sure," returned Hannah, "but yet with not so much pleasurable surprise as her husband had anticipated. "But," she added, "you did not need it, and I fear you will feel the loss of the money."

"Pooh! I have money enough. You know I have spent but very little lately. I have been pretty saving."

"But you forget our things, Charles. The money you have on hand is not yours."

"Not mine?"

"No. It belongs to the store-keeper, and to the butcher, and to our landlord. You know they must be paid."

"Don't you fret about them. I know it don't cost me anywhere near twelve dollars a week to live, for I have made an estimate. There is Wilkins, who works right side of me in the shop, he has four children, and only gets the same wages that I do, and yet he lays up some three or four dollars every week, besides paying his rent."

"Yes," said Hannah, "I know he does. I was in to see his wife the other day, and she was telling how well they were getting along. Mr. Wilkins takes his basket every Saturday evening and goes over to the market and buys his week's quantity of meat and vegetables, and trades for cash, so that he gets everything at the best advantage. So he does at the store. He lays in a good quantity of all those articles that will keep, and buys them as cheap as he can. Butter, eggs, cheese, apples, and so on, he buys when the market is full, and when they are cheap, and he always buys enough to last his family over the season of scarcity, when such things are high. His butter, for instance, he bought for eighteen cents a pound—a large firkin of it—and it is much sweeter than that for which you paid twenty-eight cents yesterday."

"Twenty-eight cents!" repeated the young man, in surprise.

"Yes, I asked Mr. Waldron's man, who brought it up, and he said it had risen to twenty-eight cents. Mr. Wilkins got fifty dozen of eggs some time ago, and his wife packed them down, and they keep well. You will have to pay Mr. Waldron thirty-three cents for those you sent up yesterday."

Charles Matthews was somewhat astonished at this view of the case, but it could not be helped now; and the subject was dropped. His gold chain had lost its charm. It did not look so well, even in his own eyes, as had the simple black cord he had worn before.

[Concluded Monday.]

ACCIDENTAL POISONING.—We have just heard the particulars of a sad case of poisoning, an account of which may serve to prevent future accidents of a like character. The facts are briefly these:

On Saturday last, a young man named Rowley came from Jefferson Prairie and engaged to work for Mr. Andrews, of Ashton. On Monday, he felt symptoms of fever and ague, and sent to Beloit for a supply of quinine. The messenger returned on Tuesday morning, gave young Rowley, a package, from which he—passing into an eating house—took a quantity sufficient for a large dose of quinine, and called for a cup of coffee. Before he had finished drinking this, he was seized with spasms, and in less than half an hour was a corpse. In his pocket was found the remainder of the package containing the supposed medicine, which proved to be strychnine. This was obtained at Dr. Carey's drug store in this place, and was enveloped in two papers, the outer one being marked "poison," and the inner one "strychnine," with a pen, although not very plainly. No culpable intention is attached to any one in this melancholy affair; but to ensure an additional safeguard from such fatal mistakes, we think that poison should only be dispensed in packages distinctly marked with printed labels.—Beloit Journal.

SHORT HORSE SOON CURBED—A PORTRAIT.—If there ever was a sketch true to nature the following of senator Douglass is it. We cut it from the Courier and Enquirer:

There is no man in the United States senate so dogmatic, so uncharitable, so overbearing, and so violent as he. His temper, both by nature and habit, is imperious; and opposition is sure to madden him. He knows no such thing as a distrust of his own judgment. Having once pronounced, he exacts concordance on the penalty of being proclaimed dishonest and factious. He measures motives as well as opinions by his own mental standard, and never suffers character to serve as a shield. Personal weapons are his delight, and cruel thrusts his peculiar ability. There may be doubt in regard to the actual merits of the Nebraska bill, but of the indecently arrogant and domineering championship of that bill by its author there is no doubt. The bitterness of his aspersions upon the opponents of the measures excited general disgust. His diatribe against the clergy was actually swollen with venom. From the day when he attempted to rack the New Hampshire editor for the offence of thinking freely on the bill, down to the unprecedented and tyrannical abrogation of the rules of the house effected through his agency, he showed the utmost possible disrespect for the opinions and disregard for the rights of others. If any man by his conduct could have put himself beyond the pale of tolerance, Stephen A. Douglas did it.

THE THREE BROTHERS WASHBURN.—There were two brothers of the Washburne family in the last congress, one from Maine, and one from Illinois.

We notice that a third one, Cadwallader C. Washburne, has been nominated by the whigs in Wisconsin, with a very good chance of an election, unless the democracy heal their divisions. There is said to be another one equal to any of the three, in California.

These brothers are all violent whigs; have more than ordinary talents, and few are before them in any kind of tact.

The member from the Galena district in this state, has no superior as a tactician among the whigs of Illinois.—Chicago Democrat.

THE YELLOW FEVER AT AUGUSTA.—Nearly the whole white population of Augusta has left, and pitched tents in various parts of the country for miles around. The fever is increasing.—The post office is closed, and the mails consequently delayed, as there is no one to distribute them. No southern papers have been received here since Monday.

ROCK COUNTY VALUATION.—The clerk of the Rock county board of supervisors has furnished the Janesville Gazette with the following "equalized" valuation of the county as returned from the state board of equalization.—Mt. Sentinel.

The electors of Rock county who are determined to support no man for office who is not positively and fully committed to the support of the principles announced in the "Republican Platform" adopted at Madison on the 18th of July last, and whose personal character, political associations and private conduct, do not afford a guarantee that he is reliable, are invited to meet in their respective townships or wards at the place of holding the last township or ward election, on Tuesday, 10th day of October next, at 2 o'clock P. M. for the purpose of effecting a thorough organization of the Republican party in their townships or wards, and of appointing delegates to a county convention hereafter called at the Court House in Janesville, on THURSDAY, the 12th day of October next, at 2 o'clock P. 17TH SENATORIAL DISTRICT CONVENTION.

At the same time and place above designated in the respective towns and wards for meetings, to choose delegates to the county convention, the Republican electors of the wards of the city of Janesville, and of the towns in this county comprised in the 17th senatorial district, are requested to select an equal number of delegates to which they are entitled under the above appointment in the county convention, to represent them in a senatorial convention hereafter called at the Court House in Janesville, on THURSDAY the 12th day of October next at 11 o'clock, A. M., to nominate a candidate for senator.

By order of the County Committee.

During the present week one of our workmen has been absent from the office, and to help the case, yesterday was our weekly publication day. Of course, our reading columns show the effect of these causes. There is a better or worse time coming.

"HERE SHE GOES AND THERE SHE GOES."

The steamship Alps arrived at Boston on the 27th, with news of an advance on flour in the English market, and the America at Halifax on the 28th, with three days later news, and reporting a decline on flour. It is one of the strange things of the present age, that such fluctuations across the ocean, should possess any interest in the interior of Wisconsin; yet such is the fact, and the arrival of every steamship sets first the wheat-buyers and then the grain-growers in a ferment. When, as in the present case, only a few hours intervene between news of an advance and a decline, the sensation must be remarkably pleasant!

The steamship America brings a report that the allied armies are getting ready to do something against Russia. All the naval forces are withdrawing from the Baltic, and a large land and naval force departing for an attack on Crimea.

Our minister to Spain, Soule, is getting into a muss with the Spanish government, the Spanish newspapers, and every body else. He had better be recalled, if he has not been dismissed.

Merchandise for Janesville arrived at Milwaukee on the 28th for Ogilvie & Barrows, H. S. Edwards, J. B. Dimock, McKee & Bro., L. Darling, Cooley & Babcock, Hasleton & Hutson.

There are a few additional returns from the 9th judicial district. Collins is elected, beyond doubt, by a fair majority.

ACCIDENT ON THE RAILROAD.—As the yesterday morning freight-train, consisting of 23 loaded cars, was approaching Fulton from the west, and about four miles from it, the engineer observed a man walking on the side of the track, about 60 rods ahead of the train. He sounded the whistle when within about 20 rods, thinking the man would step farther aside; he then whistled to brake, but the train could not be fully stopped, before the leading beam of the engine struck the man on the side, knocking him down. The engineer jumped off, picked him up, and the train was stopped before it had fully passed the spot. A doctor was sent for to Fulton by the conductor, and as much attention shown to him as possible, but it was feared he could not live till this morning. He was a very old man, with white hair, named Daniel Courtenay, and is the man who was struck by a gravel train while walking on the track last winter. He was almost totally deaf.—Milwaukee Sentinel, yesterday.

Mr. Courtenay, we learn, has since died.

Haggarty, one of the leaders in the riot on Monday night, has been set at liberty by Justice Seymour and Braley, on the trifling bail of $500. Mr. Gibson who was stabbed, is still living; but little hope, however, is entertained of his recovery. A public meeting is to be held at the court house this evening to adopt measures to prevent a repetition of such riots, and also to talk over the matter of "straw ball."—Madison Journal.

HYGEANA.

A wonderful discovery has recently been made by Dr. Curtis, of this city, in the treatment of consumption, asthma and all diseases of the lung. We refer to "Dr. Curtis' Hygeana, or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup." With this new method Dr. C. has restored many afflicted ones to perfect health; as an evidence of which he has innumerable certificates. Speaking of the treatment, a physician remarks: "It is evident that inhaling—constantly breathing an agreeable, healing vapor, the medicinal properties must come in direct contact with the whole of the arid cavity of the lungs, and thus escape the many and varied changes produced upon them when introduced into the stomach, and subjected to the process of digestion. The Hygeana is for sale at all the druggists' throughout the country.—New York Dutchman of Jan. 11.

The Inhaler is worn on the breast under the linen without the least inconvenience—the heat of the body being sufficient to evaporate the fluid.

Hundreds of CASES of CURES like the following might be named. One Package of Hygeana has cured me of the ASTHMA of six years standing.—John F. Keenberry, Jr. M. of Danmannon, Pa.

I am cured of the ASTHMA of 10 years standing by Dr. Curtis' Hygeana.—Margaret Estlin, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mr. Paul of No. 5 Mammoth St., N. Y., was cured of a severe case of Bronchitis by the Hygeana.

My sister has been cured of a DISTRESSING COUGH of several years standing, and decided to be incurable by her physicians. She was CURED IN ONE MONTH by the Hygeana.—J. H. Gaubert, P. M., Richmond, Me.

N. B.—Dr. Curtis' Hygeana is the ORIGINAL and ONLY GENUINE ARTICLE, all others are base imitations or vile and INJURIOUS counterfeits. Shun them as you would POISON.

Something New!!

MR. CHARLES AUSTIN, the celebrated Reel maker has just completed his new Organ Reel, upon which he has labored for the last two years. This Reel is different from all others in its composition, being much larger and having more power. It is intended for Church and Parlor Organs as manufactured by Messrs. Austin & Co. These Organs have no equal in the organs of any of the shape of all Church Organs. The price will range from $175 to $300, depending upon the finish of the case. To churches in want of an instrument of that value we would say that they have more power than any common Organ costing $400.

J. F. Pease & Co., Janesville, Wis., are interested in the manufacture and sale of these instruments, and are the only persons through whom they can be had. Any order sent to the above named firm will be promptly filled, and the goods will be sent as soon as they can be manufactured.
